Comments:

1. Tariffs does not depend on the amount of music in total broadcasting time.
2. In addition to musical works, the television tariffs also include the works of visual art.
3. Monthly commercial income includes revenues from advertising sales (including in the TV teleportal environment), broadcast time sales, paid telephone services, amounts received for using the TV teleportal service (subscriptions paid directly to the TV for web service access), and amounts received from cable operators for carrying the signal over their network.
4. Monthly commercial income does not include revenue from sponsorships, donations, and barter transactions.
5. Tariffs are based on the results of negotiations with TV organizations.
6. These tariffs are valid from January 1, 2024, to December 31, 2028.
